

PISKA POWER

Based out of Berlin, Stefan Junge isn't your regular dance music producer. He's an abseiler, a spelunker of electronics heeding the call of the wild.

Avid explorer of tortuously sculpted techy meanders and burntout circuit board scapes, Piska Power threads his way across intricate webs of prototechno rhythms and distorted harmonics like one scouts uncharted caverns and grottos, continuously tracing back upriver, where electronic signals come into being and the drums beat a savage, unadulterated pulse out the dawn of time.

Showcasing the breadth of his skills through a dizzying maelstrom of feverish percussions, bouncy 303 arpeggios and enticing bird calls captured during various fieldrecording excursions, PP's contribution encompasses his unparalleled vision with optimal results. You can find him on the Labels Power Station, Kess Kill and New York Haunted.

